About Nardini Manor

Nardini Manor is a century-old country estate built in 1910, situated on five and a half acres of land. In recent years the property has been used as the site of many weddings and special events. In 2003, a 500 meter dirt track was constructed around the property for use annually by the Across The Years endurance race every New Years.

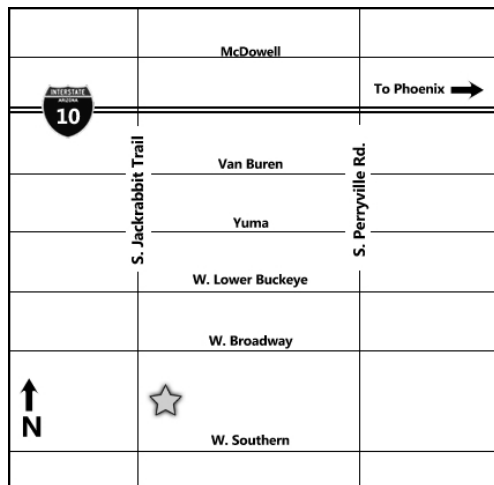

Directions

The easiest route to get to Nardini Manor is to take the I-10 interstate west to exit 121, Jackrabbit Trail (also known as 195th Avenue), then head left (south) on Jackrabbit 4.7 miles. The manor is on the left (east), just past some train tracks. As you approach from the north, a grove of trees hides the view of the house until you are right on top of it, so watch carefully as you approach.

The turn into the parking area is a sharp turn (about 120 degrees) off the road just north of the main gate, and just to the right (south) of a canal. The parking entrance is located on the north side of the property. Please be aware of runners on the course! Plan to give yourself enough time to park and set up your supplies.
